Brief Introduction:

Mr. Vinod Kumar Saroha is currently working in the Department of CSE and IT of BPSMV, Khanpur Kalan. He is presently pursuing his PhD in Computer Science and Engineering in cloud computing domain from MM Deemed University, Mullana, Ambala. He did his MTech from MD University, Rohtak. His area of specializations include Cloud Computing and Software Engineering. He has participated in many international conferences in the country and abroad, and has over 50 research articles to his credit (either as first author or second author), both in conferences and international journals of repute. He is Training and Placement Officer of the department since six years and has succeeded in getting maximum students absorbed in leading corporate firms and MNCs. Besides being actively involved in many assignments both at departmental and university level, he has keen interest in establishing industrial and academic linkages for research; thereby providing better avenues to students for their academic and professional growth. He joined the services of Bhagat Phool Singh Mahila Vishwavidyalaya in April 2012 as Assistant Professor and is continuing since then.
