

Dr. Geeta Phogat is an M.A. M.Phil and Ph.D. in English. She has teaching experience of around thirteen years. She has been a member of DRC and Academic Council. She is currently a member of PGBOS. She is teaching U.G. and P.G classes in the department. She is supervising Ph.D. and M.Phil. scholars. Her areas of interest are Indian Writing in English, Diaspora Writings and Mythological Writings. She has presented papers in several national and international conferences. She has to her credit around ten publications in various national and international journals.