

With the teaching experience of more than sixteen years, Dr Shalini is currently an Assistant Professor in the Department of English at BPS Mahila Vishwavidyalaya, Khanpur Kalan Sonipat since last 13 years. Her research area includes Indian English Literature, Diasporic Studies, Women Studies, Modern Indian Theatre, Folk Literature. Besides being on the editorial board of the journal, she has been member of various academic bodies. She has published more than twenty papers in national, international journals and books, authored three text books- Effective English II, III & V. She has presented more than thirty-five papers in various conferences at National and International level and has delivered invited lectures. She is currently guiding PhD and MPhil Scholars and is Incharge cultural and extracurricular activities. She has been coordinator and active member in organization of workshops, refresher course, seminars and webinars.